

OTUMFOUR OSEI TUTU AND AMAKYE DEDE ABRANTIE FOR NORWAY.....

The Asantehene, His Royal Highness Otumfuo Osei Tutu II and the Ghanaian highlife music super star , Abrantie Amakye Dede are on a special bill to grace the Norwegian African Business Summit plus a night with the royals dance respectively scheduled to take place from the 12 13 of October 2012 in far away Norway.

The Business Opportunity Exploration and Networking as well as an Arts event are been organized by jointly by the Norwegian-African Business Association (NABA) - in charge of the Business Summit and NORDIC GHANA INVESTMENT

SERVICES- in charge of the Special Musical Night with the Royals, two programs that the organizers are saying are going to open the business window for both countries and to showcase the artistic potentials of our dear nation.

According to the organizers, the Norwegian-African Business Summit is an event that is aimed at attracting international investors interested in the world's most exciting emerging markets and business people keen to learn more about the opportunities in African markets.

It is going to be a one day conference where potential business men/women and enthusiasts will have the opportunity of meeting policy makers, business leaders, Ambassadors and future African or Norwegian business partner.

NABA disclosed that the invitation of his royal highness, the Asantehene, Otumfuo Osei Tutu is a recognition of his able leadership and his vision for relevant development and his search for investment opportunities which in the long run will benefit the nation as a whole. He will also grace the night with the Royals dinner dance and music.

The conference according to NABA will have a strong 15 speakers. They include, H.E. Trond Giske, Norwegian Minister of Trade and Industry, H.E. Aston P. Kajara, Uganda's Minister of Privatisation and Investments, Mr. Joseph Mucheru, and Regional Lead for Sub-Saharan Africa, Google and many more.

In addition to a plenary session all key-note-speakers will host panel discussions as well as sub-seminars on oil & gas, renewable energy, finance, telecom/technology and agri-business. Country presentations & one-on-one expert meetings, speed dating with African ambassadors.

On the 13th of October, which is the final day of the event, Nordic Ghana Investment Services (NorGhis) organizers disclosed: 'it is in two parts, the first event which has the theme: 'The Role of the Diaspora in bridging the socio-economic development gap between country of origin and country of residence will take place at RadissonBlu Plaza Hotel, Oslo.

After a successful summit will be a night of musical explosion with Abrantie Amakye Dede and his Apollo Kings band at BALLROOM OSLO.

It will also have special appearance from the King of Ashanti Land Otumfuo Osei Tutu II with the master of ceremony being Ghana's finest on the mic Kwesi Kyei Darkwa (KKD).

Organizers said the event cost 500kr to participate with advance tickets selling at 7 eleven and narvesen kiosks and African shops in oslo. Alternatively interested participants can call: +4799887883 for info on how to purchase a ticket.

In their final words as to why people must attend the night of royals, NorGhis stressed that this event would be a momentous platform to Portray Ghanaian culture the Norwegian people, Project highlife music the Norwegian people and bring together distinguished men and women in business to interact.

People should not also forget the fact that the king of Hi-life music who was recently honored in Ghana, I am talking about the man with 25 albums and still growing, Daniel Abrantie Amakye Dede, what else to expect, grab your tickets now to prevent last minute chances.

Story Adapeted from : Nana Yaw Wiredu / 18newspaper.com

Source:

Story from Modern Ghana News:

<http://www.modernghana.com/blogs/422458/31/otumfour-osei-tutu-and-amakye-dede-abrantie-for-no.html>

Published: Monday, October 08, 2012

All trademarks and copyrights on this page are owned by their respective owners.